Presentation focuses on financing long-term health care needs

APPLETON, Wis. — Financial issues can become more complicated as we age, especially if health problems develop. To help with some of the challenges, Kristin Alfheim, managing director of Futurity First, will present “Financial Concerns: Getting Life in Order” at 6:30 p.m. on July 22 at Touchmark on West Prospect in Appleton.

A certified senior advisor, Alfheim will address the multiple financial methods available to address long-term health care needs during the accumulation, distribution and liquidation phases of life. Her presentation is the first one in Touchmark’s new Memory Care Speaker Series.

There is no charge for the presentation, but reservations are required. Please call 920-832-9100 by July 20 to reserve a spot. Touchmark is located at 2601 Touchmark Drive in Appleton.
