Public invited to participate in VoiceBook Project for Day of Service and Remembrance

BISMARCK, N.D. — Touchmark and ServeYES invite the public to join them and celebrate the National Day of Service and Remembrance on Friday, Sept. 11, through the VoiceBook project.

The VoiceBook project is an activity that records adults reading a storybook to a child in their life. The recording and a copy of the book are then sent to the child so they can hear their loved one's voice. The project is especially suited to those serving in the military or grandparents living in a different state. Whether a child or grandchild lives far away or within the area, though, the VoiceBook becomes a treasured keepsake

Recordings will take place 9 – 11 a.m. on 9/11. Adults are encouraged to bring a child's favorite book or use one provided. Touchmark will record adults reading the book aloud and help them send the recording and book to their loved one.

"This is a wonderful project for people in many circumstances," said Amy Miller, life enrichment director at Touchmark. "The recording process is easy, and children will be thrilled to read — and hear — their personalized book."

Touchmark is located at 1000 West Century Avenue. There is no charge to participate, but an RSVP is required by Wednesday, Sept. 9, due to limited space. Reserve your space by calling 701-323-7000.

About Day of Service and Remembrance

The Sept. 11 National Day of Service and Remembrance is one of the largest days of charitable service in the United States. Held on the anniversary of the 9/11 attacks, the day is a way to pay tribute to and remember the victims and the sacrifices of the people who lost their lives.
