Touchmark showing preview of Door County special

APPLETON, Wis. – Touchmark on West Prospect in Appleton will show an exclusive prescreening of a Wisconsin Public Television feature on Door County.

“Hometown Stories: Door County” will be shown at 3:30 p.m. on June 9 at Touchmark, 2601 Touchmark Drive. WPT chose Touchmark as the host for the early screening of the program in northeast Wisconsin. The episode will air in the fall.

“Hometown Stories: Door County” focuses on the history and culture of Door County. WPT Director of TV Jon Miskowski will attend the June 9 showing to answer questions about the show. Hometown Stories is produced as a partnership between WPT and the Wisconsin Historical Society.

Local refreshments and Door County wine will be served during the showing. There is no charge for the event, but registration is required. Please call 920-832-9100 to RSVP.

“We are excited to be partnering with WPT to preview this fascinating and in-depth look at the rich history of Door County,” said Touchmark Executive Director Barbara Pandolfo. “The local wines and food will enhance the overall experience,” she added.
