Fargo Mayor to deliver toast for St. Patrick's Day Pub Crawl

FARGO, N.D. – This year, Touchmark at Harwood Groves is welcoming a special guest to its popular annual St. Patrick's Day Pub Crawl festivities as Fargo Mayor Tim Mahoney will deliver an Irish toast to the crowd. Mayor Mahoney will be raising a glass to Touchmark residents and guests at the Hotel Donaldson before local band Poitin takes the stage for a special concert, which is open to the public.

“We are thrilled to welcome Mayor Mahoney to this year's event,” says Touchmark Life Enrichment/Wellness Director Anne-Marie Fitz. “His excitement about attending is a testament to our friendly and supportive community.”

On Saturday, March 17, a bus full of green-garbed older adults will leave Touchmark at 10:30 a.m. for its first stop at Blarney Stone, where lunch will be served. Würst Bier Hall is next on the agenda. Then, the crowd will gather at the HoDo, where Mayor Mahoney will make a toast at 2 p.m., and Poitin will entertain the crowd. The band will play two 50-minute sets of authentic Irish music. Dancing is encouraged! The Hotel Donaldson and Touchmark are cosponsoring the concert.

Celebrators will travel in style on Fargo Party Ride's “The Godfather” — the largest bus in the fleet — as they head out for a day of bar-hopping, green beer and Irish music.
