Touchmark hosts final concert benefiting local nonprofit

SIoux FALLS, S.D. – The public is invited to celebrate the last few weeks of summer at an outdoor concert on Wednesday, August 15 from 7 - 8:30 p.m. at Touchmark at All Saints.

Bluegrass Trio Dan Kilbride, Kelby Fode and Boyd Bristow will perform on the north lawn outside of Touchmark at 111 W. 17th Street. There is no cost for the family-friendly concert, and no RSVP is necessary. Concertgoers may bring blankets or chairs to claim a spot.

Complimentary refreshments will be served on the lawn, and food trucks will be on-site for those who would like to purchase food. Anyone consuming alcohol must have ID.

All attendees are encouraged to bring school supplies to support Project: SOS at The Banquet.

“This is the last of three summer concerts Touchmark has hosted for families while also benefiting a local nonprofit. We invite everyone to join us for an evening of bluegrass/folk music, good fun and support for Project SOS at The Banquet,” says Touchmark Executive Director Amanda Snoozy.

About Project: SOS at The Banquet

The Banquet is a volunteer-based ministry serving meals each week to families at two locations. Project: SOS collects school supplies for children; last year, the organization distributed 6,000 new backpacks filled with school supplies to last the entire school year.
